Business Partnership Support and Advisory Services for commercially viable activities in developing countries

The Finnpartnership-programme offers support for business activities aimed at the target countries shown green on the map.
Business Partnership Support

Financial support for projects aiming at long-term business activities in developing countries, for example

- Establishing a subsidiary or joint venture
- Importing from a developing country
- Pilot projects related to Finnish environmental technology
- Subcontracting, long-term maintenance-, franchising - or licensing contract

Support is granted for expenses arising from the feasibility, planning and implementation phases, for example

- Identifying business partners from a developing country
- Feasibility studies
- Environmental impact assessments
- Making of business plan
- Training of local personnel
- Developing a specific business area of an existing project

Advisory Services

The consultant database lists Finnish and international experts for developing country projects.

The country pages list information on developing country actors and business environment as well as links to useful sources of information.

Finnpartnership experts offer advisory services in the preparatory phase of projects aiming at business activities and help to find alternative financial support instruments when needed.

The newsletter lists events, news, business initiatives and success stories in Finnpartnership’s operational area.
